

Aztec Life and Society

	Homes	Clothing	Food
Nobles	Large, two-story houses	Fine cotton with colorful designs	Best food, including meat
Commoners
Most common occupation
How people became slaves	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•</li> <li>•</li> </ul>
Rights of slaves	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•</li> <li>•</li> <li>• children born free</li> <li>•</li> </ul>
Respected commoners	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•</li> <li>•</li> </ul>
Motives for going to war	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•</li> <li>•</li> </ul>
Government	No true central government. Instead, empire was a loose collection of _____ that were ruled by _____. The Aztecs maintained control through _____.
Kings were selected by
Kingship was passed down from	Father to son or other blood relatives
Helped king run government	Four _____ One _____
The Aztecs believed that the gods	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•</li> <li>•</li> </ul>
Most important god	Huitzilopochtli
Aztecs performed human sacrifice for	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•</li> <li>•</li> </ul>		